

Exit Test

Create a MVC based PHP Application which consist following things

1. Authenticate system where user can login and register with First Name, Last Name , Email , Phone, and Password. Email must be unique field.
2. User can register and login to the system using MySQL database records
3. Once user logged in the system can create their task, task having title, description, completed_by(user logged in id) , completed_on(date), status of task(pending, completed, re-open)
4. Only logged in user can see and change status of task
5. Task would for logged in user (one to one relation), All system work for respective logged in user.